

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE
THE NATIONAL WAR COLLEGE
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20315

3 February 1967

Dear Mr. Carver:

We are delighted that you have accepted the Commandant's invitation to address the members of The National War College on Monday, 20 March 1967. A few administrative details for your visit follow.

The usual procedure will prevail, i.e., the lecture will begin at 9:00 A.M. and will be followed by the question and answer period and discussion group meeting.

A copy of the course syllabus is enclosed for your information. Your topic is covered on pages 73 through 79.

We hope you can remain with us for the luncheon which will be held at noon at the Fort McNair Officers' Club.

We sometimes receive requests from officials and officers of government agencies to attend specific lectures at the College. We admit such visitors only when the speaker does not object to their presence, and when the visitor is properly cleared and has a need-to-know for the subject being presented. The speaker is provided with a list of these visitors prior to his presentation. If you have any objection to the presence of such visitors, please let me know. In this connection, our non-attribution policy is applicable to guests and is outlined on page 11 of enclosed pamphlet, "Information for Guest Speakers."

Enclosed is a requisites form for your use. We would appreciate receiving it as soon as possible. May I also ask for two copies of your current biography?

With kind regards, I am

Sincerely yours,
